Annual Meeting of the Woman's Whist League.

MANY DEVOTEES OF THE SILENT GAME

Sessions in Willard Hall and Hotel and Ebbitt House.

LIST OF TIE CONTESTANTS

Silently and intent upon the game, three hundred and fifty women inaugurated the play of the second annual congress of the Woman's Whist League at 10 o'clock this morning. The play is in progress at Willard Hall, the Ebbitt House and Willard's Hotel. Delegates to the congress have been arriving for several days past, and include some of the most prominent women whisters of the country. The congress will continue until Friday morning, when the final matches will be played. Play will begin during the intervening days at 10 o'clock each morning and at 8 o'clock in the evening. The afternoons will be given over to the working out of scores by the officials of the congress, while the delegates will find rest and recreation in sight-seeing trips and social entertainments.

The most interesting and animated scene of this morning's play was in Willard Hall, where one hundred and fifty-six women, where one nundred and hity-six women, attired in spring gowns and hats flashing in varied colors, sat around thirty-nine tables for the first day's play in open pairs. These games bring out much brilliant individual play. There is no team work, and while this play is an important feature of the tournament, concluding with a cup con-test, interest in it at present is not so great outside of those directly engaged in the games.

In the Ebbitt House parlors waged the real conflicts of the congress. Here skill and team work was seen in its zenith of perfection. The contests in progress were those of the Washington trophy shield and those of the Washington trophy shield and the Philadelphia cup. The former is con-tested for by teams of four, while the lat-ter is played for in pairs. The picked play-ers of the various clubs forming the league are entered in these games, and it is ex-pected the play will develop some remarkably strong work. The Washington trophy is a magnificent silver shield, appropriately engraved and embossed and mounted upon a velvet backing. The winning team wil a velvet backing. The winning team will be presented with individual pins, gold-mounted and enameled in red. The Phil-adelphia cup is a handsome trophy. The two players skilled enough to win it will also receive dainty gold individual pins, with the figures '99 engraved upon them. Play for the Toledo trophy, for open teams of four, was also begun this morning in one of the parlors at Willard's Hotel. Individual silver trays will be awarded the Individual silver trays will be awarded the winners. The list of prizes for the various plays and positions in the cup contests is long, and the articles to be distributed are especially valuable this year.

The Brooklyn trophy, a silver vase, will be played for finally Friday morning. Those playing today in Willard Hall are endeavoring to qualify for this series.

Friday morning, Washington trophy finals; Philadelphia cup finals, if necessary; Toledo trophy finals; Brooklyn trophy finals; spe-cial trophy finals.

The Washington trophy play will also be a contest for the championship of 1890-1900 for club teams of four. It will be conmatch score will control the contest, the match score will control the contest, the match score of each day being added to the preceding one. The two teams having the highest aggregate scores of matches won will enter the finals these finals to be won will enter the finals, these finals to be played off in a match of twenty-four deals Friday morning.

The Philadelphia cup play will decide the championship of the year for club teams of two. It will also be continued tomorrow and Thursday and will be played under the Howell method of duplicate whist for pairs. The highest aggregate score for the three days will win the contest. In case of a tie the finals will be played Friday

The Toledo trophy play will be a contest for the championship for open fours and will likewise continue through tomorrow and Thursday mornings. It will be played under the Howell modification of the Mitchell system, without change of partners. The scoring system will be the same as that employed in the Washington trophy series. In the open pair contests each contest will be complete in itself. The highest test will be complete in itself. The highest scores each day north and south and east and west will be counted the winners. These winners will be qualified for the Brooklyn cup contest of Friday morning.

The evening contests for open pairs will be open to mixed pairs of men and women, also for pairs of women only. The finally also for pairs of women only. The finals will be played Friday morning. No person, excepting the players, the um-pire, members of the tournament and executive committees, and recorders, will be allowed in the rooms where matches are in progress without the consent of the team captains and umpire.

During their stay in the city the delegates will be entertained on a scale as large as their play will permit.

THE REQUEST DENIED.

Question of Title to Lot 4, in Square

Mr. M. I. Weller recently requested the District Commissioners to instruct the collector of taxes not to issue a tax sale certificate to any one for lot 4, square 1113, issessed in Mr. Weller's name, but really eing, he stated, the property of the United States. Mr. Weller said he entered a verbal protest at the late tax sale, assuring the collector that as the lot belonged to the United States any sale would be illegal. Mr. Weller also stated that Senator McMillian, chairman of the Senate District committee, has already taken active steps to protec the interests of all concerned.

The Commissioners referred the matter to their attorney, who has advised them that Mr. Weller's request should be denied, Whist Club of St. Louis.

The following clubs have sent teams to compete for the Philadelphia cup, played for in pairs: Sarah Battle Whist Club, Loecker Whist Club, Colonial Whist Club, Eelmont Whist Club, all of Philadelphia; Cranford Whist Club, Cavendish Whist Club, Washington Whist Club and Capital Whist Club, of this city; Emma Andrews
Whist Club, Milton C. Work Whist Club, of Richmond; Ladies' Whist Club, Cavendish Whist Club, New Amsterday Whost Club, New Amsterday W whom he claims, has been in actual possession for an uninterrupted period of twenty years, so that the said records of the War Department shall show the title to said lots to be in the said occupant," etc.

"This legislation," states the attorney,
"recognizes the equitable ownership of the actual occupants of the lots contained in the list, Senate document 277, referred to the list. Senate document 277, referred to, and enables such occupants to perfect their title to said lots. In view of the acts of Congress above referred to, lot 4, in square 1113, is liable to be sold for taxes, and the collector would have no right to withhold a tax sale certificate from the purchaser. My opinion is Mr. Weller's request should be deried." be denied.

AUDUBON SOCIETY'S MEETING.

Lecture on "Some Familiar Birds' Feature of Program.

An attractive program has been arranged for this evening's meeting of the Audubon Society of the District of Columbia. It will be held in the First Baptist Church, corner of 16th and O streets. A feature will be the delivery of Mr. Henry Olds' interesting lecture on "Some Familiar Birds," which will be profusely and exquisitely illustrated. This will be the first of a series of spring meetings of the society. It will begin promptly at S o'clock.

The society is endeavoring at present to ntensify the already increasing interest in the work it was organized to promote. The birds attract more attention at this time of the year than at any other, and it is believed this is the period when the people should be aroused to action in the work of protecting the songsters from the hands of the spoilers. Tonight's meeting will be a oppular one and will abound in interesting letails. The society issues a general invitation to the public to be present. There will be no charge connected with it.

RIGHT TO HOLD NOTES.

Order in Suit Against Trust Company and Others.

In connection with the proceedings for an injunction and the appointment of a receiver instituted by James Fraser and others against the Capital Trust Company and others, Justice Cox today directed Charles H. Allender, one of the defendants, to place in the hands of Receiver Benjamin F. Leighton certain notes claimed by G. Rodney Burt. These notes were recently turned over to Attorney Hayden Johnson, in his capacity as counsel for Mr. Burt. It is understood that Attorney Johnson has been holding the notes as security for a claim for legal services rendered Mr. Burt. The order signed by Justice Cox to-day provides that Mr. Allender shall withdraw the notes from Mr. Johnson's keeping and place them in the hands of the receiver. The court allows Attorney Johnson ten days to assert any right he may have Unmoved by Threats.

"Can I get a room?" inquired Joseph Davis, a young colored boy, at a disreputable house late last night. The woman of whom he made the request was shocked, and her effort to give him a moral lecture only caused trouble. Joseph had been in trouble before, and the threat to have him arrested did not worry him in the least. Instead of going elsewhere he remained to argue the question with the woman, and the police finally "I wasn't doing a thing," he told Judge Kimball today. "Me and my partner were out together and I—"

"Have you got a partner?" interrupted "Have you got a partner?" interrupted the court.
"Sure," was the boy's answer.
"Have you ever been arrested before?" the judge wanted to know.
"Only three or four times," was his answer.

"For what?"
"Playing crap and other little things."
The court committed the boy until his

The attention of the District Commis-Difficulty in the Way of Improving Concord Street. sioners was recently invited by Mr. John McPhaul, secretary of the Brookland Citizens' Association, to the condition of Concord street, Brookland, with a request that something be at once done to improve it. The street, said Mr. McPhaul, has not been graded or graveled, and, as the result of laying sewer pipes last winter and water pipes the previous winter, traffic on the street has been almost completely abandoned. The street is not only in bad condition, according to the representations of Mr. McPhaul, but is absolutely dangerous, and he cites an instance where a short time ago a poor man lost his horse by its falling into a hole left in the street within a few feet of 12th street, the principal thoroughfare of the village. He says that on the two squares of the street between 10th and 13th streets there are more houses than on any other street in the place. At than on any other street in the place. At the corner of 13th and Concord streets is the Episcopal Church, an edifice costing considerable money and very largely at THE STORY TOLD tended, and yet, except in the very best weather, he says that it is almost, if not entirely, impossible to reach the church, TRUTH NO. 1. No claim was ever made for Munyon's Remedies that has

Concord street, continues Mr. McPhaul was first on the list of improvements rec ommended by the executive committee the association, and, according to a verbal report of the organization's committee on streets, the Commissioners gave assurance last fall that while they would not recommend a specific appropriation for streets in Brookland, the intention of the Commis-sioners was to grade and gravel "quite a number of squares" in Brookland under the appropriation for suburban and county roads. Mr. McPhaul says that while the appropriation mentioned will not probably be available until July, he suggests, in view of the dangerous condition of Con-cord street, something be done under cur-rent appropriations, if any funds are avail-able therefor, and that the improvements he ordered dangers soon as mossible.

Mr. McPhaul will learn from a communication to be addressed him by the Commissioners that there is, unfortunately, no specific appropriation for the work of improving Concord street, and that the fundifor repairs to roads are not legally applied. proving Concord street, and that the fund-for repairs to roads are not legally appli cable. The Commissioners admit that the circumstances related in Mr. McPhauli-communication are, in substance, confirmed by an examination which they caused to be made, but they suggest that the only prac-tical relief that can be afforded in the mat-ter would be for the citizens interested t secure and present a largely representative petition for curb and sidewalks on the squares mentioned, in which event, it is stated, it is more than probable the roadway improvement might be justified. The Commissioners state that the condition of danger referred to be been removed. danger referred to has been removed.

CHURCH BENEFIT.

Peculiar Actions of a Stranger Causes His Arrest.

"My dearly beloved man," said William E. Smith in the Police Court this afternoon, "I endeavor to observe the laws of man and God, and if I have not fulfilled my mission in life I'm sorry."

Policeman Riley arrested the stranger yesterday because of his peculiar conduct and charged him with vagrancy. He said he preferred this charge in order that the court might have him examined to determine the condition of his mind "My dearly beloved man," repeated

Smith, "I'm a firm believer in justice. I'm a native of Maryland, and I was en route to Baltimore yesterday when I was deprived of my liberty." "Have you ever been arrested before?"
"Now, my dearly beloved man," he said,

"How many drinks had you taken yes-terday before the officer arrested you?" "My dearly beloved-

"How many drinks did you take from the bettle?"

"I believe I did take one little sup." Judge Kimball directed that Smith be committed for examination. "I hope I will soon get better," the prisoner said to Bailiff Kendig, "for I want to put in an application for a place on the police force."

When Smith returned to the cell room he produced some religious tracts and pro-ceeded to preach to the prisoners. He told them that he had preached to the soldiers at Manassas and the latter had given him considerable money. The prisoners listened attentively to Smith until the van arrived and he was taken away to the workhouse
